Tony considers himself a coach rather than an instructor.

“There are many ways to approach a subject and the joy is in exploring them.”

Here is your chance to enjoy local scenery with a new eye while learning to translate that beauty into better watercolor landscapes. Tony van Hasselt demonstrates on location, lectures, gives personal guidance and at the end of a full painting day, shows you how to improve your efforts. There is nothing like the experience of being outdoors with a group of hard working painters, doing what they love to do. Whether you are a beginner or advanced artist, you know you belong, so come join the fun!
